Putting their hearts and minds into Germany's fresh food markets

About GFI

GFI Deutsche Frischemärkte e.V. (German Fresh Food Markets) was founded in 2000, initially as a marketing association for German wholesale markets. In 2010 it was decided to open the association to retail markets and expand its remit.

Advertising, public relations work and informative events are geared to focus consumers' attention on the fact that wholesale markets are important because they ensure that wholesalers, retailers and catering outlets are supplied with a large variety of top quality fresh food.

Benefits of membership

GFI sees itself as a network of partners and offers its members

- a broad-based communication platform for the exchange of information and experiences relating to all aspects of the trade
- a formalized process of knowledge transfer on key issues of trade management
- nationwide coordination of healthy eating events
- lobby work in political circles, trade chambers and associations
- a public forum in the shape of a joint stand at the Fruit Logistica fair and
- a website – www.frischemarkte.org – with a comprehensive information database

The GFI Organization: Equipping Markets for the Future

In 2014 GFI restructured its business divisions by trading levels. The “wholesale markets” and “street markets” divisions will focus primarily on matters regarding business, infrastructure, organization and benchmarking. In addition to these moves towards enhancing the efficiency of existing markets, work will concentrate on the development of effective models for sustainable wholesale and street markets.

Our members practice a lively exchange of information. It is a point of honour to make a personal contribution. All members are committed to putting their experience and expertise into joint efforts to shape the future of Germany's fresh food markets.

FRUIT LOGISTICA – the world of fresh produce

FRUIT LOGISTICA is the world's leading trade event for the fresh fruit business. Every February more than 70,000 top decision-makers from over 140 countries meet in Berlin. The 110,000 m² of hall space gives 2,800 exhibitors from 83 countries an opportunity to present everything the global fresh fruit trade has to offer.

GFI: Network and market place for small to medium enterprises

GFI has been exhibiting at Fruit Logistica for 16 years. German wholesale markets share a 300 m² fair stand where they demonstrate how very well they function as modern, versatile and high-quality trading and logistics platforms.

Above all, the fair stand serves wholesalers and importers who trade at wholesale markets as a welcome meeting point, where they can hold in-depth talks and negotiate with clients and suppliers from all over the world.

What counts most for GFI are networking opportunities – and the fair brings everyone involved in the value chain together.

GFI Fructinale – they all answer our freshness call

In 2009 GFI German Fresh Food Markets added a whole new dimension to networking. The Fructinale, now one of the largest gatherings for the industry was launched on the fringe of the Fruit Logistica, It is an unusual event, which has rapidly turned into an opportunity for the Who's Who of the fresh produce business to meet and refresh networks in a pleasantly relaxed environment. Over 300 guests from the business, political and media communities join for an unforgettable evening to celebrate life's true stars: fruit and vegetables.

Out-of-the-ordinary locations and superior catering

Since the Marheineke Market Hall, Berlin, had already hosted four successful events, the GFI decided in 2015 that it was time to introduce its guests to one of the many other things Berlin has to offer. For the 5th Fructinale show in 2015 the next perfect event location was discovered – the historic Berlin Waterworks. Now everyone is looking forward to the 6th GFI Fructinale in 2017.

Varied programme

Well-known national politicians, fascinating show acts and the unique atmosphere combine to produce an entertaining evening. A special highlight of the evening is the presentation of our "Buddy Bear" awards to loyal partners of German fresh food markets.

“Märkte Live”: smartphone app for market fans

The daily round of business at our fresh food markets is a colourfully lively affair. Consumers want to do more than buy fresh products; they'd like to make fresh contacts, exchange news and chat with people. That means our markets are much more than just places for trade. They are the city's genuine chatrooms, full of real-life tweets.

“Märkte Live” is the first German language app for all market events in the German-speaking area. Users of “Märkte Live” can find all the street markets, market halls, wholesale markets, flea markets or popular festivals happening locally or in the rest of Germany.

“Märkte Live” puts us in touch with one segment of market fans belonging to our future customer base. These customers favour the latest forms of communication as much as they value the shopping experience plus the freshness, variety and quality of the products.

The app is continuously updated and new events and markets added as required, new data is automatically transferred.

All markets and event promoters can access this free app. Market operators and event managers may alter their data and add special campaigns to their profile page whenever they wish.

Carry the market in your pocket

GFI's Live Markets app may be downloaded free of charge from the AppStore (for iPhones) and Google PlayStore (for Android smartphones).

Love your local market – Erlebe Deinen Markt

Europe celebrates its street markets – Germany now joining in the annual event 2-week international festival for 2,000 street markets, market halls and wholesale markets in 16 countries.

In May 2015, 60 street markets and market halls in 12 regions of Germany were first-time participants in the European “Love your local market” campaign, using the German title of “Erlebe Deinen Markt” (experience your market). Many colourful and informative events and specials were staged to celebrate the role of markets as an indispensable element of local shopping. “Love your local market” was started in 2012 by the National Association of British Market Authorities (NABMA). In 2015 more than 2,000 markets in 16 countries in and beyond Europe took part in the celebrations. This makes “Love your local market” the biggest event for European markets.

The World Union of Wholesale Markets, WUWM, in The Hague initiated the international movement. As a member of the WUWM, our Berlin-based GFI Association of German Fresh Food Markets is the central contact coordinating and organizing “Erlebe Deinen Markt”. In addition to representing the country's major wholesale markets, GFI also speaks for 80% of the street market operators in Germany's metropolitan regions.

We are very proud to be part of the “Love your local market” movement. This initiative gives support to the many dedicated market operators who work to enhance public awareness of street markets, specialist markets and market halls. Joint events in the context of the “Erlebe Deinen Markt” campaign have the positive effect of turning the spotlight on the social, cultural and economic role that markets play for those living in specific regions.

GFI Association of German Fresh Food Markets is only too happy to give market operators and committed trader organizations an opportunity to take part in this network of markets.

Network for traders and marketing partners

GFI is the central point of contact for national and international growers who would like to undertake marketing activities at appropriate, independent food stores. GFI offers these marketing partners individual concepts so they can communicate their brand to the quality-conscious consumer and arrange product tasting events.

All this is possible because many independent retailers are part of the wholesale markets' formidable "Fresh produce network" consisting of attractive street market locations, specialist greengrocer shops and retail market halls; they offer an excellent advertising environment because they focus on advice, service and providing a good shopping experience.

400 top locations for promotions and tastings

GFI is the central point of contact for marketing partners wanting to use this platform. GFI undertakes the overall planning and coordination of campaigns and arranges for national and international PR work involving the press and Internet sites. The wholesale markets take care of the planning details and integrate the local trading partners into the event. They often arrange for local and regional advertising / PR as well, and organize own events in support of the marketing specials.

GFI fresh food markets are also popular places to offer samples of brand name foods, beverages, convenience products, household devices and media products. Use the communication potential of GFI for effective marketing events to promote your brand at the point of sale.

Germany's wholesale markets – hubs for fresh produce

When most people are still asleep in the cities, the wholesale markets are busy turning night into day. The markets are a hive of activity. Vast amounts of fresh fruit and vegetables from national growers, especially those near the market, and from all over the world are shipped to and from the markets. Whatever the season, there is no shortage here – and everything is of top quality. Other types of food are on offer besides fruit and vegetables, so that retailers can obtain a large part of their range of fresh produce from the market.

We are at the centre of freshness

Wholesale markets are at the centre of the chain of added value for fresh foods and flowers. This is where growers, wholesalers and importers meet the buyers from shops and restaurants who want the best for their customers. And customer relations are very important, because delivering to customers is part of the service where freshness is concerned.

Grown around the world, sold in the region

Regional, national and overseas growers supply produce to the importers and wholesalers based at the wholesale markets. The wholesale market is the sales channel of choice for growers who attach great importance to the quality and freshness of the produce and value the professional advice and trading skills of the companies at the wholesale markets and their customers.

Companies based at the markets

Most sellers are wholesalers and importers. Possessing great professionalism and experience, they are able to handle large volumes of every kind of perishable food from all parts of the world. Many of the companies trading on the wholesale markets have been owned and operated by the same family for several generations. The entire range of services connected with the produce is available. The market traders are highly competitive because they put the customer first and offer the latest logistics technology and services.

The buyers

Among the customers who buy from the varied range at the wholesale market are independent retailers, street market traders, hotels, restaurants, chain store branches and bulk buyers for hospitals, community centres, fast-food outlets and canteens.

The experts for healthy eating

Without the wholesale markets, consumers would find their quality of life diminished, because the people who buy produce at the wholesale market pay close attention to...

- Freshness

Everything is geared to freshness at wholesale markets. The markets ensure that fruit and vegetables from all over the world and the local region are taken straight to the shops, so the consumer can buy them while they are fresh.

- Variety

You name it, the market has it. The five continents of the earth rub shoulders in these urban centres, to offer whatever the consumer desires, from A as in apple to Z as in zucchini.

- Quality

Here the wholesale markets leave nothing to chance. For good reason. After all, the people who trade here are all proven experts – people who set very high standards and for whom only the best is good enough. That is why freshly harvested produce is first subjected to a number of official inspections.

- Regionally sourced produce

Regional growers have stands at many wholesale markets to sell freshly picked seasonal produce: "From the region – for the region" is the guiding principle, thus cutting transport time and costs.

When it comes to fresh produce, wholesale markets are at the centre of the value chain

The wholesale market in central Germany

Leipzig Wholesale Market opened at its new site in 1995 and is the major such market in central Germany, specialized in fresh produce and the provision of logistics services in connection with the distribution of all types of goods.

Leipzig Wholesale Market is part of the Central Freight Terminal Leipzig (GVZ), the region's most prosperous industrial estate and is situated at the crossroads of traditional European trade routes (Berlin-Munich / Halle-Dresden). In the immediate neighbourhood are the airport, the parcel post and freight centre/DHL, Porsche and the new trade fair complex, and so the market stands at the logistics hub of greater Leipzig. This central location gives us access to clients within a roughly 100 km radius. Exemplary infrastructure guarantees, moreover, rapid access to any destination in the trade-fair city of Leipzig.

Munich Markthallen – a wholesale market with potential

Located in the heart of Europe, this international hub for handling fruit and vegetables covers an area of 310,000 m². 400 importers and wholesalers from all over the world trade here – and they sell not only fruit but flowers, delicatessen products and wine too. Fruit trading agencies arrange to ship goods to other European countries. A glance at the figures soon reveals the economic importance. In the wholesale market hall, which forms part of the Munich Markthallen, some 415,000 tonnes of produce are traded every year. The estimated turnover of all the companies based in the wholesale market hall is 1.5 bn. euros. This strong market position derives from its enormous catchment area, ranging from Munich and its surrounding region across much of South Germany and into Austria. Every day around 5 mil. people have access to produce from Munich Wholesale Market.

Modern trading centre

Rostock wholesale market is a modern trading centre in an easily accessible part of the Hanseatic city of Rostock. New premises were built in 1994, allowing the market to move to the central freight terminal which is very convenient for the wholesalers' customers and suppliers since it is ideally situated close to motorways 19 and 20.

A total hall area of 8,500 m² is dedicated to the sale of fruit, vegetables, meats and sausages, flowers, plants and florists' supplies. In the flower hall interesting demonstrations of e.g. binding bouquets or making decorations attract large numbers of trade visitors on a regular basis.

Fresh is what we do best

Visit any one of Germany's 3,500 or more street markets, its 15,000 or so greengrocer's shops or one of the many market halls and you will find experts for fresh foods selling a huge variety of produce.

Street markets – Oases of freshness

From the region for the region! Street markets are the most important sites for selling agricultural produce from local growers. Supplying regional products and a great variety of produce from all over the world, the itinerant traders offer their customers a uniquely pleasurable shopping experience in the open air.

Greengrocer shops – the experts for fresh produce

Plenty of variety whatever the season! The specialist greengrocer shops offer their customers personal advice and service in connection with their carefully selected range.

They make it their business to know all about their goods. A range of produce that changes with the seasons makes the specialist store a must-visit shop for people who look for healthy food with plenty of variety.

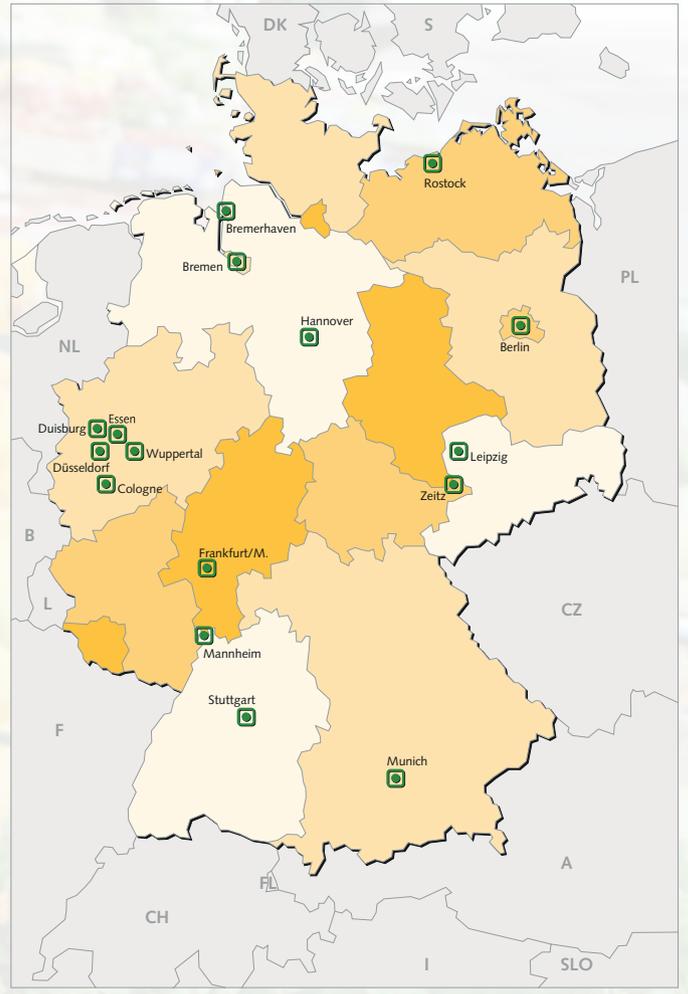

Market halls – distinctive historic buildings

Many of the market halls are over 100 years old and their unique architecture provides a welcome break from the uniform look of town shopping centres.

These covered market places for gourmets sell regional, national and imported fresh produce and deli foods. A wide range of eateries and many other services combine to deliver a satisfying shopping experience. In a nutshell: a uniquely pleasant atmosphere for people to whom quality matters.
